but all confidence in Sir John, that he had never forgotten him that act of treason, and never would.

This is exactly what Cartier told us about Sir John's conduct, and this statement is precisely what we have seen upon oath. I may add that on an evening or two before the departure of Sir

George for England, he told me that he had been to see him at his house at Kingston. The only thing he then told me was that he was going away to England very sick, and without any referring to Canada. For the doctors here had told him that his disease was incurable. He intimated to me that he would have said so to me during the previous session about Sir John Macdonald, and that they were true. He does not love

French Canadians. He detests them.

This is my opinion, and I hope you will profit by it.

All who know the strong fraternal—

almost loving—relations which subsisted between Sir John and Sir George up to the hour of the latter's departure for England never to return, will brand the above circumstantial relation as an infamous lie, and a really aspersive upon the character of the greatest French Canadian who has

as yet appeared in the political arena. Sir

John and Sir George fought the political battles of Canada for many years side by side, and never to separate. They never knew to have a serious dissension. They always spoke of each other in Parliament and in public in the most friendly terms. And yet, the aspersion of a person who is ashamed to give his name, the people of Canada are asked to believe that the dead statesman played the hypocrite—that, while publicly proclaiming friendship for Sir John, he was in private secretly plotting against him.

Sir John was privately stating to his supporters that he had not only lost confidence in his well-tried friend and colleague, but warning them to shun him as an enemy of their race, on whom he had fought for many years! Shame be the ghost who thus seeks to tarnish the monument of the great patriot and statesman!

No doubt the asperser must be exceedingly stupid to Sir John, or it was not designed to be; but the malice of his enemies has led them to overlook the mark.

They have overlooked the important fact that their accusation acquits him of the charge for so many years. It is not designed to be; but the malice of his enemies has led them to overlook the mark.

The Mills Forger.

A few days ago Mr. D. Mills stated that on Sunday, November 8, Sir A. P. Caron, who was then in Winnipeg, dispatched the following telegram to the Premier:

"People were very excited. I fear if the law is not allowed to take its course there will be trouble. I am sending you a copy of the evidence of this, but know it to be a fact."

The purpose of sending this alleged telegram was to show that the decision of the Ministry in Sir John's case was governed by considerations of expediency rather than of justice. The telegram, which was sent out that day, according to a letter written by Sir John Macdonald, the determination of the Government was reached prior to the departure of Sir A. P. Caron. Sir

John, and he would never permit the telegram to be submitted to the full cabinet. (Public Opinion.)

The Ashley Carriage Factory—Its Rise and Growth.

A Reporter, Progress Manufacturer.

The report of the INTELLIGENCER was shown through the extensive manufactory on Pinnacle Street, known as the Ashley Carriage Factory. This industry was established less than a year ago, and is now one of the most important of the city, so much so that we are marking down the old ad as it is the price of the new.

Notes from the Gallery.
Toronto, Feb. 18, 1886.
I missed the only really good debate since the House opened by not attending during the discussion on the address. I had understood there would be no discussion, and I am informed it was the best sustained of any debate in the House for years.

Hearing the Treasurer was to make his report, I went by the papers that Mr. Wood read it, and I was disappointed. The House wears its old aspect. Mr. Wood is looking weary and contented; Mr. Wood is looking weary and contented; Mr. Wood is looking weary and contented.

The Briggs Assault Case.
Evidence of the Complaint at the Prothonotary.

The preliminary trial against Hiram Phillips, of Limerick, for attempting an indecent assault upon Miss Margaret Ann Briggs, of Limerick, took place to-day. The Magistrate Flint's court this morning.

Miss Briggs is not an altogether bad looking woman about 26 years of age. When put in the witness box she testified as follows: I received the following letter from Hiram Phillips, Dec. 18, 85.

To Miss Jane Briggs: As you have been recommended to me as a very good dressmaker, I thought I would write to you and see if you could not make a few dresses for me. I have a factory, and have a scheme of taking orders. If you will please come up to my mill on the 25th of this month, I will be at Gold's hotel and see what terms we can come to. I live at Napanee, and will be going home on the 26th; will not be back until the 28th. Will you give Mr. Briggs contract of furnishing these dresses for both factories; will either hire you by the month, or let you have the factory by the season, and you can make by the pound. It is a good factory, and in a good neighborhood. If you make up your mind to that effect, come up on morning train, and we will try and make a bargain and have an agreement when you arrive any time you wish. Get of the train at Millbridge crossing; it is about half a mile straight west to Hotel Jordan; will send horse and rig to meet you. Do not fail to come. Yours, A. W. JORDISON, Cheese Maker.

At the appointed time I went on the train to the place named. When I arrived at Millbridge I found no one to meet me. I went to Hogan's Hotel. Half an hour later I got to the factory. I found it was a Golding's Hotel, when we arrived there it was about sundown. On the way to the hotel I saw the letter I had received. Phillips (I said) find the man for me. At last he said Jordan had not been there, but was told he was at Bannockburn and offered to drive me there. At first I declined to go; as he repeated that we could drive to Bannockburn and get back at an early hour, I consented to drive there with him. We had driven about 2 miles when Phillips insisted upon my stopping, and to commit an indecent assault. I resisted, and when Hiram Jackson came I placed myself under his protection and remained over night at his house. I told Mr. Jackson of what occurred, he advised me to take legal proceedings, returned home in the morning.

On cross examination the witness said: I showed the letter to Phillips, and he told me it was a fraud and that I had been brought from home for a purpose. He stated me at the hotel before he came. The letter was addressed to my sister, but as she was not a cheese maker but a cheese seller, I thought there must have been a mistake and answered it.

At the close of Miss Briggs' testimony, Mr. B. Burdett, counsel for the defence, contended that it was a case of common assault. The Magistrate concurred in this view, and fined the defendant $10 and costs.

Mr. Geo. E. Henderson conducted the prosecution.

A Farewell Dinner.
A number of intimate friends of Mr. Alf. Tickell tendered him a farewell dinner at Millbridge, prior to his departure for California. The spread was excellent. The usual patriotic toasts were proposed and responded to. The toast "Give us Mr. Tickell to lead" was given, who responded in an able manner, thanked his friends and schoolmates, and said he was glad to be remembered among those in which they brought his residence in Belleville to a close. The evening was spent in reminiscences of boyhood's days and expressions of enduring friendship.

Mr. Tickell is a son of ex-44. He has been for the past four years, been bookkeeper for Messrs. Flint & Holton, but has been for more than a year, in position in the Golden State, and will depart on Tuesday next to commence his duties. Mr. Tickell is a young man of steady habits and good social qualities. We shall be pleased to learn of his future success.

Wedding Bells.
A happy social event took place at the residence of Jas. Bell, Esq., Oak Hills, on Wednesday evening, 17th inst. The occasion of the nuptials, Thos. J. Bell, of Belvidere, Nebraska, and Amy A., the youngest daughter of Mr. Bell. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. O. R. Lambly, M.A., pastor of the Methodist Church, Stirling. The bridemaids were Miss M. Doak and Miss M. Bell, and the groom was supported by Messrs. W. J. Bell and Thos. Doak. The bride and groom were the recipients of many costly presents.

A Good Teacher.
The Napanee Standard says:—"We are pleased to learn that the vacancy in the Headmastership of the Napanee High School has been filled by the appointment of Mr. T. M. Hurley, of Belleville. The appointment is well known in Napanee, and his selection will give the utmost satisfaction to all friends of education in the county. He is a ripe scholar, a teacher, and much more than ordinary ability, and has fulfilled to the utmost the expectations of his employer wherever he has been. We congratulate Napanee on his choice."

Fire Extinguishers.
The exhibition of the powers of the hand grenade fire extinguishers on the market square yesterday afternoon and last night drew large crowds, despite the inclement weather. Beards coated with tar and covered with coal oil were set on fire and the flames were not instantaneously extinguished by one or two grenades being broken in their midst. The grenades are made of a liquid which has been mixed with contract with fire, generates carbonic acid gas, which extinguishes the flames.

A Social Gathering.
The members of Maple Lodge No. 127, I. O. F., will have a social and fraternal gathering at the lodge room on Wednesday night, at which the members and their friends are to be entertained by a musical and literary programme of excellent merit. The best local talent has been secured to furnish recitations and music.

Toboggans $1.50

I HAVE a number of Toboggans 6 feet and a half in length, made of well seasoned wood, and with the best of material, and at a very low price. Original price was well over $1.00, but I have sold them for $1.50, as some early season purchasers might resist.

Warranted sound in wind and limb, and gentle in hand.

J. MORGAN.
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

P. S.—Just had 4 cases of English hares, packed by the celebrated Townsend Co., first shipment this season.

NOTICE.

High Water Mark

As we have been put to some inconvenience for want of storage room, on account of high water, rendering our cellar almost useless, we have decided to LARGELY REDUCE STOCK by again REDUCING PRICES, when we shall claim to have got every head of beef.

We are taking stock, and there will be a general MARKING DOWN, and we are not only BELIEVE, but we KNOW, that we have the cheapest and best stock of PROCEDES, CHINA, GLASSWARE, CROCKERY, &c., between Toronto and Montreal.

As to LAMPS of all kinds we have positively, as stated before, the CHEAPEST and BEST assortment in the city, any other statement to the contrary notwithstanding.

Standards of Cup and Saucers, Plates, Bowls, Jugs, and Glassware in odds and ends to clear out cheap.

Please make a note of the above, and for the future when you want any dishes go to
